

- » Partnership: The ideal commitment would include 1-2 teams per site and $20,000+ for the pole building (cost includes delivery to site). It is preferred these funds be raised prior to the arrival of the team; however, Global Partners will front the construction cost as needed for each partner who commits to raise the funds within one year.

All partnership support should be sent to Global Partners marked for project WM06-1324. It is preferred that funds are sent prior to team deployment but special arrangements can be made with GP.

- » Team size: 8-10
- » Length of Trip: Optimum 10 days including day of arrival in country and day of departure.
- » Skills: Not every team member needs to be a skilled carpenter; however, each team should have a level of trade craft necessary for them to actually accomplish something while on location. (Ideally, at least two team members need to know how to build and the rest of the team should be willing and able to provide general labor.)
- » Team Budget: Each team should budget $50 per team member per day which will cover all in-country expenses, including shelter, food, laundry and transportation to and from Port-au-Prince airport. Each team will also contribute $1,000 for local construction labor.

All team funds should be carried in with the team in US dollars.

- » Number of teams to build at each site: Those at greater distance due to travel time will need 2 teams; otherwise, one team should be able to construct a standard provisional building in the 10 days.
- » Health/Fitness: In light of the nature of the rebuilding teams and the lack of significant infrastructure currently in Haiti, team members need to be of good health and able to endure heat and physical activity in possibly harsh conditions. No special diets will be able to be accommodated.
- » Extreme Teams: These are teams that have the capacity to live in primitive camping conditions during the duration of their construction project.
- » Travel Arrangements: Teams can arrange their own flights, but no tickets should be purchased until dates/times are approved by GP. Once purchased, flight itineraries should be sent to GP.
- » Internet: There is limited Internet access in Port-au-Prince and La Gonave. In addition, some iPhone/Blackberry type devices may work in various locations.
